Whitehall, July 22.

THE following Addreſs having been tranſmitted to Samuel Holden, Eſq; has by him been preſented to his Majeſty, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To his moſt Excellent Majeſty King George the Second.

The humble Addreſs of his Majeſty's loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Miniſters of Chriſt and Paſtors of the Churches in his Majeſty's Province of the Maſſachuſetts Bay in New-England, at their Convention in Boſton, May the 29th, 1734.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

THE Fame of the happy Nuptials of the Princeſs Royal of Great Britain with his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Orange, together with the univerſal Joy of the Nation, teſtified in their Addreſſes to the Throne on this Occaſion; as alſo the very gracious Acceptance which the Addreſſes of the Proteſtant Diſſenting Miniſters, our united Brethren, have found with your Majeſty, with your Royal Conſort the Queen, and with their Serene Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Orange, encourages us alſo in theſe diſtant Parts of your Majeſty's Dominions, to make the moſt early Repreſentation we can, of our Share in the common Joys of the Royal Family, and of all your faithful Subjects in every Part of the Britiſh Empire. It gives us a moſt pleaſing Remembrance of the inexpreſſible Joy of our Fathers, in the Day of the Nation's Deliverance from Popery and Slavery, by the ever glorious Prince of Orange, afterwards our rightful and gracious Sovereign, King William the Third; which was never equalled among us, but only in the Day of the Acceſſion of your Majeſty's moſt Illuſtrious Proteſtant Houſe to the Throne over us, and now in the numerous Progeny of Princes, with which it has pleaſed God to bleſs your Majeſty and your Dominions, and that we ſee the Princeſs Royal wedded to another Prince of Orange.

That the moſt Serene Houſe of Naſſau may for ever ſhine in the Perſons and Poſterity of their preſent Highneſſes, as it has always done in their glorious Anceſtors, from the firſt Reformation from Popery; and that the Life of your Majeſty and the Queen may be prolonged to ſee the Childrens Children of this, and other like happy Marriages of all the Royal Iſſue, to Proteſtant Princes, to the equal Joy of all your Dominions, is our ardent Prayer, and our pleaſing Hope.

We alſo beſeech your Majeſty to permit us to lay at your Royal Feet, our humble Acknowledgements of the many Bleſſings which your Majeſty's Subjects of this Province enjoy under your auſpicious Reign; and in a very particular Manner we crave Leave to mention this one diſtinguiſhing Act of the Royal Favour and Grace to us, that it has pleaſed your Majeſty to fill the reſerved Poſts of Government, with Gentlemen the Sons of the Province, who have at Heart all the Rights of your Majeſty's Honour, and thoſe alſo of your happy Subjects here, both Religious and Civil: This, if it were poſſible, would add to our ſacred Bonds, and fervent Inclinations, ever to approve ourſelves,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,
Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects.

In the Name of the Paſtors or Teaching Elders preſent,

Peter Thacher, Moderator.

Berlin, July 20, N. S. King Staniſlaus has for certain left Marienwerder, but it is not known here whither he is gone. We hear from Dreſden, that the Elector of Saxony ſet out from thence on the 15th on his Journey to Dantzick, where he was expected as this Evening. The Marqueſs de Monti is ſtill cloſely confined in the Muſcovite Camp, and ſome pretend to know here, that he is to be ſent to Petersbourg.

Paris, July 28, N. S. Laſt Night between Eleven and Twelve a-Clock, her moſt Chriſtian Majeſty was happily delivered of a Princeſs. By Letters of the 23d from our Army upon the Rhine, we learn, that Prince Eugene decamped in the Night between the 21ſt and 22d, and was marching towards Heidelberg, and that his Quarters were to be that Night (the 23d) at Kirlock. The Germans in Italy begin to move out of their Quarters at Rovere, and ſeveral Bodies are come up to their Side of the Secchia; which may perhaps make the Siege of Mirandola more difficult to the Allies, and occaſion ſome Action.
